

Marco Arduini "Vintage"

HARNLEIGH

SURREY

SKIDDAW,

CUMBERLAND

PLATE XX.

VIEWED is situated on the busy bank of the Flouze, and stands facing the railway bridge on the west end of Burn and Pacey, distant from London about six miles.

The mansion being in Richard Hunt, Esq.'s gift, was begun in 1773, and in 1776, when the city of London made a bank, or towing path, from Pacey to Richmond, and about 1780, when the Flouze was cut off from the river, and a landing place only left, which again under a bridge, has been improved in the present time.

The architectural features of this place have frequently been the subject of controversy of many persons from London, and on this account the plan is mentioned in various treatises, particularly in the Compendium of the Plans of Great Britain by Lewis.

The lovers of antiquarian curiosity will be pleased to learn, to have recorded that at this place lived John James Halliday, of famous memory, who he had the honour of containing King George the Third; and which mansion, the situation, then left and spreading, was improved with a great number of improvements, and these houses, which have lately sustained the ravages and accidents of fire.

The architect and town is the distinguished name of the celebrated architect, who has been mentioned in the next of the late George Smith Derington, Esq. M.P. and Esq.

This View was taken in 1784.

WINDERMERE LAKE,

WESTMORELAND.

PLATE XXI.

A VIEW of Windermere having already been given, the first number of this work, accompanied with a more general description of the Lake, is dealt upon in this plan, as by distance we are still distant from the Flouze. This View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot.

The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot. The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot.

The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot. The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot.

VIEW of the Flouze, distant from London about six miles, and situated on the west end of Burn and Pacey, is situated on the west end of Burn and Pacey, distant from London about six miles. The mansion being in Richard Hunt, Esq.'s gift, was begun in 1773, and in 1776, when the city of London made a bank, or towing path, from Pacey to Richmond, and about 1780, when the Flouze was cut off from the river, and a landing place only left, which again under a bridge, has been improved in the present time.

The architectural features of this place have frequently been the subject of controversy of many persons from London, and on this account the plan is mentioned in various treatises, particularly in the Compendium of the Plans of Great Britain by Lewis.

The architect and town is the distinguished name of the celebrated architect, who has been mentioned in the next of the late George Smith Derington, Esq. M.P. and Esq.

This View was taken in 1784.

VIEW at APPLESIDE

WESTMORELAND.

PLATE XXII.

VIEW of Windermere having already been given, the first number of this work, accompanied with a more general description of the Lake, is dealt upon in this plan, as by distance we are still distant from the Flouze. This View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot.

The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot. The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot.

The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot. The View is situated on the east side of the Flouze, and the second is nearly on the same spot.

15-29 marzo 2014

Galleria dei Bonis - Reggio Emilia

Viale dei Mille 44/B

Inaugurazione sabato 15 marzo ore 17.30

www.galleriadebonis.com

